MEET OUR STAFF

ERICA WAGNER grew up in a household embodied by music and movement. She and her two older sisters constantly danced and tumbled around the living room, setting choreography to favorite songs. As a child she took a few dance classes but her main movement education was gymnastics. She started gymnastics at age 3 and began competing at age 7. It was not until high school that she began to study dance, participating in her high school's advance dance performing team, Jazz 'n' Company. In college, she continued to grow her passion for dance by taking modern classes when her schedule allowed and eventually participated in the student run dance show. A few years after graduating college she moved to San Jose and decided to continue to pursue her love of dance by taking classes at Just B Dance. Now she is excited to give back to that community with her knowledge of tumbling and passion for dancing.
